The Alice Aycock Poe Center for Health Education's facility houses five, interactive teaching theaters.

Masters-level health educators and subject matter experts author and design the Poe Center's curriculum which is taught in-house and off-site to best meet the needs of the children, youth and families of North Carolina.

Our teaching theaters provide programming on the following health topics in a manner that is both outcome and scientifically-based:

- ✓ Family Life: Reproductive Health and Safety
- ✓ Nutrition and Physical Activity
- ✓ General Health: Body Systems
- ✓ Drugs, Alcohol and Tobacco Use and Abuse Prevention
- ✓ Dental Health and Oral Hygiene

Currently, our theater sponsors include REX UNC Healthcare, LORD Corporation, Kerr Cares for Kids and Allen Tate Realtors. The Poe Center offers naming opportunities for our theater and exhibit sponsors-ask us about how YOU can support this essential work in North Carolina!
